WANT TO SLASH YOUR HIGH COST OF LABOR?

Ultra-premium D.F brand self-drilling screws typically drill in half the time as compared to all of the other brand screws that they were tested against. That translates to a 50% cost reduction in your labor costs with respect to the time that you budget for drilling screws.

Just like the finest quality, most expensive drill bits on the market - D.F brand screws work best when one allows the precision made screws to perform the work and the drilling. The operator should apply only about 35 lbs. of pressure.

Many of our competitors' screws ONLY work if the operator "sits-on" the screw during the drilling process, frequently exerting over 100 lbs. of force. (And just like the finest drill bits, D.F screws do not perform under these barbaric conditions). This labor intensive drilling process results in: A) excessive operator fatigue; B) higher fastener failure due to point burn-out because of the excessive heat build-up; C) unsafe working conditions if the operator is leaning from the side of a ladder yet trying to generate the necessary forces to allow the inferior screws to drill; D) shortened tool life due to heavier work load; E) higher labor dollars due to slower drill times; F) D.F screws have taller, stout hex heads which create better engagement with the socket facilitating a more efficient drilling operation.

If you want to sit on something then go find a park bench. But if you want to realize all of the advantages detailed above then specify D.F brand screws on all of your projects.
